

EQUATIONS OF THE IDOLS

Something is wrong. Since the commandments were revealed to Moses and since these commandments were confirmed by the prophecy of Jesus and since the universal prophet Mohamed (PBUH) had started his mission we all know in this Globe that idolatry is sin...not a simple sin but one of the biggest sins...The idolatry means that you are associating partners to the One God. This sin is so bad that God prohibits it in the very first commandment of the ten and as for Muslims, the Shihada as the first pillar of the five, is making you to avoid this sin. So why? Why can we see those pictures of humans everywhere? Are you expecting any support from them? You will be disappointed. And we all are repeatedly committing the same idolatry since the first commandment had been revealed to Moses cca. 5000 years ago. So...5000 years of idolatry...too much!. And these idols are not able to solve a simple linear equation with more than one unknown where the unknown is their interest. But life is full of unknown factors...

As a white man ,in my culture everybody want answers from you .Where all the elements of your answer must follow the structure of the logics. But what logics is it? It is only our human logics what can work in a particular time and space...and it is not omnipotent. However life is full of unseen elements what can change our expectations and calculations. How far are our idols to take every element into consideration while taking their decisions?

And we blindly are celebrating and following them!

I have attended a lot of conferences and symposiums dealing with the problems of Africa while I was in Europe. These meetings were following typically the pragmatic way of thinking of my white race...They had a lot of statistics and reports from different embassies and institutes. On the basis of this information they worked on different mathematical matrixes to optimize the variability of the solutions. Definitely in these equations their interest was the only known factor but the interest of the Africans were unknown. We could watch different demonstrations of NGO's who work on the field. We could see on their films starving children and natural disasters and areas of poverty with naked and sick people...Tears were rolling down the faces and the NGO's could get more and more donations to continue their activities...but what activity? Since these NGO's are on the field they were not solving any problem...in fact they were reproducing poverty and the pains. Yes. This is their interest. If there was no suffering child or naked and sick mass what could they record? How can they collect then those donations? So? What they are doing? You should take a decision....

Where is the the European Union Development Fund meant for the developing countries? We all know that cca. 1.7% of the GDP of the EU countries is contributed to this Fund but we don't know where this money is going? But if we were aware what these symposiums and hanky-panky tenders are for then we could understand more...In these conferences beside the activity reports of the NGOs our learned brothers are taking decisions about the development of the informatics systems or the very expensive agricultural programs in Africa while only 2% of the total continent has potable water supply, while 75% of the constructed roads are only in one country (South Africa), etc. So what are those conferences and tenders for? We all know how those EU officials and our African idols have agreed about the future utilization of those moneys...We can see nice tractors and harvesters and nice computers but we can't drink a glass of healthy water...Those tractors are reproducing your hunger because they will require capital too in order to start their function...and as a result you will be in a debt trap and your agriculture will be down while your tractors will be amortized...IT systems...the same... So these are those programs what they are working out based on those linear equations...

Besides the mathematics please learn more about the origin of life too...Some evolution.

You should know that every nation has to pass through particular stages of development. Why are they putting traps in this process? We are aware about the evolution of different cultures and know what stages they were passing through...so why your nation has no right to pass through the same process? Instead of helping and supporting this process our idols together with our learned brothers always have a plan as to how to get nations astray. Why? Because of this one unknown of their equation is greediness. So, after introducing their priorities let me introduce ours. Instead of taking away raw materials and basic commodities we need our own industry and production sector to grow up and develop...These are the sectors where they withdrew capital...maybe they can remember it...We also have to reconstruct the liquidity of our financial system and we are in need of local markets. Is their interest the same? Or they are only concentrating on their markets?

Where our commodities are entering almost free of charge? Instead of their equations please solve ours where the following factors should be constant and known:

- African local patriotism
- Professionalism
- Consciousness
- Faith in God

In case we have these factors as known ones there would be no doubt about the future of Africa
