

THE TWO WORLDS

Well... I can see these campaigns everywhere. Vote for this or that!! Vote for democrats (democracy???) vote for the left wing or for the right wing! Praising and disgracing the same person at the same time. One picture is nice...showing a decent thinker who can bring solution for every crises but on the other one there is a caricature showing the same person as a clown...And the masses are waving. Once on this side and later on the other side. The masses still believe that a person can bring solution for their pains...but how this particular person is thinking? He is making plans how will he take advantage from his position and how he will take away more from the masses...because these masses can solve their own problems themselves...So each and every side is waiting for the solution from the other side. This is the case if you believe to man. Why are you following blind humans who are in need of Guidance? Is it not better to follow the Guidance directly? Than this Guidance will show the way for you whom to follow...

After this small introduction you can see why is it important for our new rulers to destroy two things: 1. Your brain 2. Your Guidance...

Is there anybody telling you that you should read and educate yourself? Is there anybody giving warnings not to fail? Is there anybody healing your wounds and pains? Is there anybody who is pointing a finger to the Satan who is generating your problems? Of course not...nobody. Because these persons are there...on the other side where the Satan is...where your problems are rooted. As a result it is dangerous to use the brain and to be a thinker and it is dangerous to take your faith seriously though you will reveal their secret and conspiracy...But don't be scared...Follow me. We are on the right side whatever they speak. God is one and He is with us...

Those new rulers know: the more they destroy your brain and thinking the more you wish and believe in earthly miracles...and they are producing them...and you are just standing and admiring them. But this is only mockery...

They also know: the more they separate you from the spiritual world the more they can rule you...because they themselves will move into your spiritual conviction and instead of God they themselves will whispers inside you by giving instructions. And now please tell me: are you free? Is your thinking free from these obligations and instructions what make you slave of the new world? No.You are not free...However God was giving to you your Guidance to liberate you from these chains. God is lifting you to another dimension...and this dimension is called: unseen or spiritual world. Don't be deceived!!! In this spiritual world there is no Big Brother who is whispering what to buy and how to adore sick minorities!! In this world there is you and God...and He will show your way! Are you saying you are atheist? To be atheist is a temporary stage. There is no atheist on a plane what is going to fall down or there is no atheist when the last hour is coming because everybody needs

A hope...a last hope. And in these seconds nobody is calling the Big Brother...So? Don't spoil your spiritual world in your earthly life with them...even if they are going to take this world away from you. Change the dimensions of your thinking. Definitely there is a material world where all your pains are originating from but elevate yourself to another dimension...to the invisible spiritual world where all the solutions are coming from!

Do you know why am I telling all this? Because the world has been divided today between rich and poor. Those developed places have already lost their spiritual thinking while those "undeveloped" people in Africa and Asia and in the Middle East etc. still have it. Those developed people are going to destroy these cultures to make you rootless...but they will fail. This invisible world what still exists with you my dear friend is huge and strong and has no boundaries...It is stronger than the most developed army or the superpowers...Instead of destroying it they should join...maybe this is the last call...otherwise those senseless and godless physical powers will be destroyed.

And you Diaspora...who are living in the developed world but you have your origin from the "undeveloped" one. I know how do you feel. You will be never accepted by this new culture what you are going to adopt. You will always miss your own what is more developed than this civilized one! You will never forget your totems and taboos and jujus and your teachers and your chiefs. You will always run after your own congregations and mosques...and when a soccer team arrives from the country of your origin we can all see on which side are you standing...You have a mission. So don't forget where are you coming from...

And those who are campaigning for votes...please weep the dust from your books and start to learn history again. Read about the life of prophets but if were fed up with this lectures take the example of the ancient Greece or Rome or even the modern Soviet union and you will see to what extent can you rely on yourself and your earthly power and thinking...

But don't be scared...We poor are on the way and we are going to help...Thank you for occupying our land and thank you for killing our people and thank you for robbing us...While you are doing this our spiritual world will occupy you in a hidden way and will turn everything upside down and will rescue us and your souls...
